Curriculum Focus

Reading: Students are learning about different text structures, including sequence and cause and effect. Students will practice vocabulary and spelling words each week and be tested on the words each Friday.

Writing: Students are writing personal narratives. To begin, we brainstormed small moments, special places, and special people. Now we are writing our story and making revisions and edits.

Math: Students are continuing to practice rounding to the nearest tens and hundreds place. Our place value unit ends this week and then we will start on addition and subtraction fluency.

Science: Students are continuing to investigate the different states of matter: Solid, Liquid, and Gas

Social Studies: Students are learning map skills, including the different features of maps, how to read maps, and how to make maps.

Classroom Notes

Students received their computers last week. Please be sure to continue to communicate with your students the importance of taking proper care of the equipment.

This year students will have the same IA class all quarter. 3rd grade will have Character Education and PE everyday for 1st quarter, Technology and PE for 2nd quarter, Art for Music for 3rd quarter, and Technology and PE for 4th quarter.

Homework will include daily math problems and reading at least 15 minutes outside of school. The reading must be recorded on the reading log. Additional homework may be assigned, so check student planner every day.

Star Student

Phoenix Jackson-Marsh shows Respect and care for his classmates and Collaborates well with others. Both are qualities AV has focused on this year.
